

Clause

Simple → sub + verb

Compound → Co-ordinating clauses +
Co-ordinating

Complex → Co-ordinating clauses +
sub-ordinating clauses.

* Clause → Clause is a group of word that something make a complete sense but it include one subject one main + verb.

co-ordinate clause
Example -> The patient had died before the doctor came co-ordinate verb phrase & sub-ordinate

He spoke at once as he entered the room co-ordinate clause -> It is a clause that always represents a complete sense. It is also a sentence.

Example -> He had finished his homework

sub-ordinate clause
It is a clause that doesn't represent complete sense but it include one subject and one main verb.

Example -> As he killed him

Phrase -> Phrase is a group of word that does not include any shows complete sense and it does not include any, subject or verb.

Example -> in the morning to the his friend

Kind of clause

- 1) Noun clause
- 2) Adjective / Relative clause
- 3) Adverb clause

Noun clause -> A noun clause is a depended clause that acts as a noun. Noun clause is being degree with words such as that, what, whatever, when, where, which, whichever, who, whenever, whom, whenever and why.

Example -> Choose a gift for whenever you want.

I wonder how long we should wait here

Adjective / Relative clause -> Relative starts clause are dependent clause introduce by a relative pronoun like - that, which, whichever, who, whoever, whom, whenever,

whose and so of which.
For people → who, whose, what
For things → which, that For place → where.
For time → when.
For possession → whose.

Examples → ① Rohan visited the office where his mother works.

② We are going to see a band whose lead singer is a friend ours.

Adverb clause →

An adverb clause is a word or expression in a sentence that functions as an adverb, it tells you something about how the action in the verb was done.
It adds extra information about the time, place, manner, etc.

Example → I am sad although you did a good job of trying to cheer me up.